

All Online Learning

www.allonlinelearning.com

Indian scholarship for study in abroad

There are several scholarship opportunities available for Indian students who are interested in pursuing higher education:

1. National Scholarships: The Indian government offers a number of national scholarship programs for students at the undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral levels. These programs are administered by various government agencies and are open to students from a wide range of disciplines.
2. University Scholarships: Many universities in India offer scholarships to their own students. These scholarships may be based on financial need, academic achievement, or other factors.
3. Private Scholarships: There are also a number of private organizations and foundations in India that offer scholarships to students. These scholarships may be based on a variety of criteria, such as financial need, academic achievement, community service, or specific interests or talents.
4. International Scholarships: There are many international organizations and universities that offer scholarships to Indian students. These scholarships may be available for study at universities in India or abroad.

Scholarships for Scheduled Castes (SC) and Scheduled Tribes (ST) students:

The Indian Government offers several scholarships for Scheduled Castes (SC) and Scheduled Tribes (ST) students to pursue their studies abroad, including at the PhD level. Some of the key scholarships for SC/ST students to study abroad include:

1. National Overseas Scholarship for SC/ST Students: This is a scholarship provided by the Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment for SC/ST students to pursue higher studies, including PhD, abroad. The scholarship covers tuition fees, maintenance allowance, and other expenses.
2. Maulana Azad National Fellowship for Minority Students: This fellowship is provided by the Ministry of Minority Affairs for students belonging to minority communities, including SC/ST students, to pursue research at the PhD level abroad.
3. Junior Research Fellowship and Senior Research Fellowship: These fellowships are provided by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) and the University Grants Commission (UGC) for research students, including PhD students, to conduct research abroad.

www.allonlinelearning.com

All Online Learning

www.allonlinelearning.com

4. Indian Council of Cultural Relations (ICCR) scholarships: ICCR offers scholarships to Indian students to pursue higher education including PhD in foreign universities in the field of Humanities, Social Science, Fine Arts and Performing Arts.
5. These scholarships are highly competitive, and the selection process is based on academic merit and research potential. The eligibility criteria and application process for these scholarships may vary, so it's important for students to carefully read and follow the instructions provided by the respective organization.

It is important to note that these are government-funded scholarships, and the availability and funding levels may vary from year to year. Also, keep in mind that the application process for these scholarships can be quite competitive, and students will need to meet certain academic and research requirements to be considered.

Important link for SC/ST:

There are several websites and links that provide important information for SC/ST students who are interested in pursuing higher education, including PhD studies abroad. Some of the key websites and links include:

1. Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment: This is the government website that provides information on scholarships and other programs for SC/ST students, including the National Overseas Scholarship for SC/ST students. The website also provides detailed information on the eligibility criteria, application process, and other important details related to the scholarship. (<https://socialjustice.nic.in/>)
2. Ministry of Minority Affairs: This is the government website that provides information on the Maulana Azad National Fellowship for Minority Students, as well as other programs and scholarships for minority students. The website also provides detailed information on the eligibility criteria, application process, and other important details related to the scholarship. (<https://www.minorityaffairs.gov.in/>)
3. Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR): This is the government website that provides information on the Junior Research Fellowship and Senior Research Fellowship for research students, including PhD students. The website also provides detailed information on the eligibility criteria, application process, and other important details related to the fellowship. (<https://www.csir.res.in/>)
4. Indian Council for Cultural Relations (ICCR): This is the government website that provides information on scholarships offered by ICCR for higher education including PhD in foreign universities in the field of Humanities, Social Science, Fine Arts and Performing Arts. The website also provides detailed information on the eligibility criteria, application process, and other important details related to the scholarship. (<https://www.iccr.gov.in/>)

www.allonlinelearning.com

All Online Learning

www.allonlinelearning.com

5. University Grants Commission (UGC): This is the government website that provides information on scholarships, fellowships and other financial assistance offered by UGC. It also provides information on rules and regulations, and guidelines for various scholarships and fellowships offered by UGC. (<https://www.ugc.ac.in/>)

Top universities link:

Here are some links to websites that list top universities around the world:

- QS World University Rankings:
<https://www.topuniversities.com/university-rankings/world-university-rankings/2022>
- Times Higher Education World University Rankings:
<https://www.timeshighereducation.com/world-university-rankings/2022/world-ranking>
- US News Best Global Universities Rankings:
<https://www.usnews.com/education/best-global-universities/rankings>

www.allonlinelearning.com